

LIVING STREETS

Co-creating the city of tomorrow

Join us

A fantastic real-life experiment

With Living Streets, citizens can temporarily transform their street into the sustainable place they have always dreamed of.

Exploring a new way of designing our cities

It's about hundreds of people all over Europe who turn their street into a meeting place, a playground, a dining room, a garden spot, a bike park... by co-organising activities with other interested stakeholders and their city council.

Join us and make the city of tomorrow visible today!
